Whether you're a homeowner, landscaper, or outdoor living retailer, understanding the different types of outdoor cabinets helps ensure you choose the right solution for durability, functionality, and aesthetics. These cabinets not only protect your valuable tools and supplies from weather, pests. How does the price of poly cabinets compare to wood cabinets?

Since there are so many types of woods in different price ranges, it is hard to compare. However, generally our cabinets are in a similar price range as a custom wood cabinet. Established manufacturers like Guangdong Baineng typically require 50-100 units for custom designs, while smaller suppliers may accept 20-50 units. Always confirm MOQ thresholds during initial RFQ stages. Originally produced for the yacht industry, Seaboard polymer will not rust, rot, corrode.
